Where the Money Goes. Over seven millions of dollars have been paid by the tax-payers of this nation for converting various classes of securities into each other. Verily a "national debt is a national bisssing." At any rate of JAY Cooks entertains that opinion. He wants the debt converted into a different class, so that he can sweat it as it passe through his hands.

Laboring Men Look at This. With the price of one day's labor in 1858, a workman could carry home to his family thirty pounds of sugar. Now all that he third for the same period will only produce fifteen pounds. Where does the balance go? The Radical Mass Recting at Brazil.

BRAZIL, IND., August 20, 1868.

Editor Sentingt As 1: 16 not often that you are troubled with communications for publication from this quarter, I propose, briefly, to give you an account of a radical meeting here to-day, which was addressed by Mr. Cumback, also the brawling, blustering, ranting candidate of radicalism, were too contemptibly low and insignificant to be entitled to any notice.

Now I desire to say in all thoughtfulness and candor, that there were not to exceed 500 persons on the ground, of whom about 300 were women and children, and the remainder were voters, of whom at least one half were Democrats. That is the vast crowd which greeted Cumback, and upon thick he congratulated himself and hearers at seeing so many people present. Poor fellow, were he to announce another appointment here, he would find the number grow beautifully less. For three or four weeks his appointment here to-day was cisculated all over the operative on fishing posters, and the appointment kept as a standing advertisement in the Indianapolis Journal, yet the crowd didn't come, and enthusiasm wasn't there.

This evening the rads are as shy as sheep-killing dogs. They seem to this doubt not the Ku Klux radical editor of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of that little enthused party, will regale his readers next week with a monstrous article upon the great success of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of that little enthused party, will regale his readers next week with a monstrous article upon the great success of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of that little enthused party, will regale his readers next week with a monstrous article upon the great success of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the dirty sheet published here, in the interest of the direct of the direc

Mew York Bry Goods Market.

New York, Angust 21.

There has been a more general break in the price of printed calicos, which has imparted more animation to the market. American, Allen's, Richmond's, Gloucester, and Naragansett have been all reduced to 13/c; Arnold's and Freeman's bring 11/c; Briggs' 11c. The Pacific and Cochico are steady at 14c, while Sprague's and Merrimack are held at 14/c, and are likely to remain at these figures.

The break in heavy brown sheetings is not conceded by agents, and the goods must advance soon, most assuredly; therefore country buyers had better order their goods by telegraph, at once.

In other cotten fabrics there is no particular change to observe, and a good trade is expected soon.

Woolen goods are in more animated request, and prices rule steady.

Bilk, ribbed, in narrow widths, are also in active request and firm, with only a small stock offering.

Of the efficacy of this matchless vegetable stomachic are to be found in every city and town in the United States—healthy men and women, research from tortury by its use, and eager to bear testimony to its virtues. It differs from any other litters in existence, in this especial particularity is not alcoholic.

He then proceeded to show that the radicals are responsible for the turmoil and confusion which is distracting the country: that to perpetuate their power by unholy means. they have robbed the country of the peace purchased by a long and bloody war. We did not have peace because with peace the radical party would have been hurled from power, and they resorted to evolutionary, and unheard of measures o tasten themselves on the country, at the expense of peace and prosperity. watchfires of Democracy are burning brightly, and victory is ours. For the Indianapolis Sentinel, Bridget High Bridget In the part I have taken in the discussion of this bridge matter, I have had but one object in view, that of calling the attention of the tax payers of the county to "the way the money goes," and having, as I believe, attained that object, by helping to fully arouse them to the great hardships and injustice we suffer at the hands of our Commissioners, it is only my present purpose to thank you for giving place in your paper to what I have said, and to close my part of the discussion by another suggestion or two, to the wronged and burdened tax payers. As a poor man and mechanic of this sion by another suggestion or two, to the wronged and burdened tax payers.

As a poor man and mechanic of this city, I assure you I feel a deep interest in every thing that takes from me a part of my daily earnings. I have always, up to this time, paid my taxes as faithfully as any of our rich men; but if this thing is to continue. I am by no means sure that I can always raise the money to pay with, for it is quite as hard for me to pay on my little house and lot, worth say nine hundred dollars, as it is for the big land holder to pay with his thousands. When I call to mind the fact that the tax duplicate of Marion county alone, is near four hundred thousand dollars, for one year. Some may be at a loss to know what becomes of so much money, but its expenditure is eastly accounted for, when we think how freely, it is given to railroad and turn-pike companies.

The Major was also doubtful of back question. He suspected that Seymour was in favor of bondholders. According to Major Gordon, and 'radicals generally, Seymour is almost as good as a late grocery a "saloon." We are informed that no liquor of any sort was sold there radical on the bond question, and it is a

A COLORED MARTYR .- The Journal has been lamenting the sorrows of one Lewis Braxton, a colored gentleman who was be present. used up by the accursed copperheads, rebels, traitors, deserters, candy thieves, their bosoms a rebel Governor of Georgia, Kukluxes and bloody boneses in the Fourth Ward riots. This amiable and intelligent colored gentleman, according to the Journal, had his skull crushed in by a stone thrown from a catapult, which Johnson....... one of the riotous White Boys habitually carries in his vest pocket, in defiance of the concealed weapon law, and had one of his sensitive shin bones shattered by a pistol ball. The Journal bemoaned the sad fate of its colored friend and patron so artistically and pathetically that it ex-

We didn't care so much for the nigger, but it made us feel bad to see our tenderdistressed about it. We knew that it in this morning's paper. would spoil the sleep of every man about the establishment—that Elder Newcomb could not enjoy the holy rest of the Sabbath day for thinking of it, and that the gentle acting managing editor would ransack his large collection of dictionaries for big words expressive of grief and dismay. Feeling for our afflicted neighbors, we thought that it might not be quite so bad as represented, and concluded to investigate. Here is what we discovered: That Lewis Braxton is the most notorious liar in the city, white or black, with a few trifling exceptions in the Journal editorial rooms. That he was in no way injured, by even so much as a pin prick, in the Fourth Ward muss.

That our neighbor has been taken and done for by an artful negro, who has imposed upon his gushing sympathies. The facts are these: Mr. Braxton ocasionally indulges in epileptic fits, brought on by hard and incessant lying. About ten days since Mr. Braxton had s fit, and fell on the stove, bruising his head a little. This bruise he imposed on the Journal good Samaritans, and the brick bat, hurled at him by a demoniac White Boy, in the damnable attack upon the African Church by the Infernal Kukluxes. But Mr. Braxton was shot, also. To get up a shot wound, he stuffed a copy of the Jonrnal into his stocking, about the ankle, and went limping arount the streets. receiving the over-flowing sympathies of the radicals. The fact is, Mr. Braxton was shot in no more dangerous place than the neck. We are authorized to pay $500 for any evidence that he was hurt in any manner in the Fourth Ward affair, and we do this only to assuage the corroding grief of the Journal people. Mr. Braxton further states that a policeman came around to see if he and other negroes were armed, and to urge them to buy pistols, but, reasonable as his story is he is such a notorious liar that we can not credit it.

The Journal wants to know if the greenbacks stolen from the negro grocery over the canal, will be applied to the redemption of the bonds. No money was stolen, unless it was stolen by radicals or negroes who came up after the row was over. Had there been any money stolen, however, we can tell the Journal what it would not have been applied to. It wouldn't have been applied to the payment of a claim of $5,000 which Ned. Robinson, of Lafayette, holds against the Journal Company, for lobby services rendered in coaxing or bribing the Legislative investigating committee to bring in a favorable report as to the alleged frauds charged upon the State Printer. After some music by the band, Senator Hendricks took the stand, and spoke for two hours and a half, in his usual able, eloquent and lucid style.
